

DENEEN REFUSES TO COMMUTE FOUR SLAYERS

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES HIS REFUSAL TO INTERCEDE FOR MURDEROUS BOYS.

FIVE HANG AT 8 TOMORROW

Negro Will Pay Penalty for Crime Friday Morning—No Hope of Clemency.

Springfield, Feb. 15—Special to the Telegraph—Gov. Deneen today announced his refusal to grant commutation of sentence to the four slayers of Fred Guezlow, the Cook county truck gardener, who they so mercilessly beat to death as he begged for his life on his knees for the sake of his wife and tiny baby at home.

Jennings Must Hang.
The quartet, together with Thos. Jennings, the negro who murdered Clarence Hillard of Chicago, and who on the same evening attempted to gain entrance to the home of Mrs. Stevens, well known in Dixon, and was frightened away, will be hanged by the neck until they are dead tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at the Cook county jail.

Clemency had been asked for the four boys, and particularly for the two youngest murderers. Beside the boys' attorneys, several women appeared to ask a commutation of sentence.

On the other side, however, there were many to ask the death penalty, and August Geweke, president of the Cook County Truck Gardeners' association, presented a petition signed by 1500 Cook county farmers, asking for the extreme penalty. A similar petition was brought from the mother, wife, child and father of the slain man.

ASHTON CITIZENS DISCUSS CONSOLIDATION

OF TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS—A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING IS NEEDED.

Ashton, Feb. 15—A very important mass meeting of citizens of Ashton township will be held at the opera house here tomorrow at 2 p. m., to discuss the consolidated schools movement. At the request of the boards of directors of the various schools, County Superintendent L. W. Miller will be present and talk to the taxpayers regarding the new and progressive educational movement, and it is thought the meeting will be productive of much good.

Ashton citizens feel greatly interested in this matter and it is very probable that consolidation of several districts will result. The Ashton school building is in such condition that a new one will be necessary in a short time, and if the proposition appeals to the taxpayers a new building, large enough to accommodate the public from several districts will be built and this building will be one of the most modern in northern Illinois.

DIXON WOMAN WAS IN GRAVE DANGER

NEGRO MURDERER ATTEMPTED TO ENTER HOME OF SISTER OF DIXON PEOPLE.

MURDERED HILLER AFTERWARD

Thomas Jennings, Who Hangs Tomorrow, Was Man Who Tried to Enter Stevens Home.

Dixon people will have an especial interest in the hanging of Thomas Jennings, negro murderer of Clarence Hillard of Chicago, which will take place tomorrow at the Cook county jail, in that Jennings, just before he entered the Hiller house on committed the dastardly crime, attempted to force an entrance into the home of Mrs. Stevens, a sister of Mrs. Hugh Curran of this city. Mrs. Stevens is well known here, having formerly lived here, and since her marriage having visited here yearly. Jennings' trial was of interest all over the country in that the conclusive proof was furnished by a thumb print of the murderer in fresh paint on a porch railing. Just before he entered the Hiller residence he tried to break into Mrs. Stevens' home, where she was alone with her two daughters, but Mrs. Stevens frightened him away by pretending to call to her husband. The murderer probably went from the Stevens home directly to the Hiller residence.

Board Refused to Act.
Since his conviction of the crime his attorneys have been making a strong effort to have sentence commuted to life imprisonment, but the board of pardons and Gov. Deneen yesterday refused to interfere.

The board also listened to pleas to commute the sentence of Frank and Ewald Shiblowski, Philip Sommerling and Thomas Schultz, murderers of a Cook county truck farmer, but took no action yesterday.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN MEETING LARGE

SENATORS MAGILL AND JONES MAKE INTERESTING ADDRESSES IN DIXON.

LORIMER DENOUNCED; CROWD CHEERS

Are Exponents of the "Five Weapons of Self-Government"—Decry the "Machines."

More than 250 persons, men and women, comprised an intelligent, interested audience at the opera house last evening and heard Senators Magill and Jones.

Attorney Clyde Smith presided and introduced the speakers very gracefully.

The audience seemed to be very favorably impressed with the talks of each of the candidates and considerable favorable comment could be heard upon the streets today.

Last night's political meeting was by far the largest than any of the candidates have drawn. Senator Jones is a candidate for governor to succeed Chas. Deneen and Senator Magill is a candidate for U. S. senator to succeed Hon. Shelby M. Cullom, subject to the action of the republican voters at the primaries, April 9th.

"The progressive movement within the republican party is a contest to restore popular government," said Senator Jones. "In order to restore government to the people it is necessary, first, to break the power of the political bosses and their spoils machines and, second, to drive corrupt special interests out of political life."

"In order to accomplish these results the people have devised the five weapons of self-government which constitute the program of progressive legislation. Wherever these weapons have been adopted the people are able to take into their own hands at the ballot box the control of their government."

"These five weapons of self-government are, first, the direct primary, whereby the people may nominate candidates for office at the ballot box; second, the direct election of United States senators by the Oregon plan, whereby the people may put a stop to Lorimer scandals and the use of bribe money in the naming of United States senators; third, the referendum, the people's veto power at the ballot box, whereby the people may veto laws corruptly purchased by bribe money in the legislature; fourth, the initiative, the people's law-making power at the ballot box, whereby the people may pass laws themselves when the legislature refuses or when corrupt business interests are able to bribe money to kill laws in the legislature which the people demand; and, fifth, the recall, the people's power at the ballot box to remove rascals from office, whereby the people are able to take out of office a man who turns out to be a grafter, boodler or bribe taker, or may remove from office one whose seat has been dishonored by confessions of bribe takers."

"The progressive movement in the republican party in Illinois is a contest to secure the enactment and free use by the people of these five weapons of self-government whereby they may protect themselves against the corrupt partnership between political bosses and dishonest capitalists of industry who have sought to prostitute and corrupt free government."

Senator Magill described the growth of business into corporations capitalized beyond the grasp of the average imagination, and the tremendous power they can exert when brought down to a small group of men. He said he has had no quarrel with corporations except when they throttle competition to control prices and output; when they overcapitalize and require the business to pay dividends on watered stock, and, most dangerous of all, he said, when they corrupt government. Referring to the initiative, referendum, recall and other progressive measures, as safeguards of honest government, he said:

"It is not expected that they will be resorted to frequently, but their mere existence in the constitution would act as a deterrent upon persons corruptly inclined. Like the burglar alarm, their value lies in warding off danger, or as with the watchdog which is prized not for the prowlers he captures, but those he keeps away."

"We might as well face the problem that confronts us," said Senator Magill. "I am not a pessimist or a calamity howler, but we must admit that things are not as our forefathers meant they should be when they framed the constitution. You do not call your doctor a pessimist and kick him out of your house if he diagnoses a dangerous illness in your family correctly, but you consult him regarding a cure."

"We are face to face with the question of who is to rule in this country—combined wealth or the people. I do not decry wealth—it is necessary for our great enterprises. Without doubt we are the richest nation on earth. Now we are up against the problem—can we stand our prosperity?"

"We are like a young man who suddenly comes into a fortune. It may prove his ruin. Byron sneeringly described what he called 'the cycle of nations' as first the pioneer, then development, then prosperity, wealth, luxury, debauchery and then decay. This, he said, was the history of all nations. Must our beloved country meet the same fate. No! The patriotic citizenship of America will not allow it."

BIG ARRANGEMENT FOR BASKET BALL GAME

GIVE LOCAL LADS YOUR SUPPORT AND HOLD DOWN POLO ROOTERS.

DIXON PEOPLE SHOULD ATTEND

Polo People Charter Special Train—150 Will Come Down—Many Seats Reserved for Them

The basketball game tomorrow evening at the high school gymnasium and the dance at the armory after the game will doubtless be the biggest event of the local winter sporting season, and the local high school students are making arrangements for a big time in every respect. To get out a crowd to compete with the rooters that will accompany the Polo team, the students of the local institute paraded the streets yesterday afternoon after school, giving their school yells and carrying many banners.

Charter Special Train.
The Polo people have chartered a special train to bring their crowd to this city for the game, the special leaving that city after supper and returning, leaving Dixon at 11 o'clock. 150 residents of Polo signed to accompany the team, and an entire side of the gymnasium at the south side high school building, where the game will be played, has been reserved for the visitors. This means that Dixon people will have to turn out en masse to encourage the local team against the rooting of the visitors. The Polo high school band will accompany the team and delegation from that city and will assist in making a big noise.

Dance at Armory.
Following the game the students will go in a body to the armory, where a dance will be held for the visitors, and there is no doubt but the dance will be very largely attended. Heft's orchestra will furnish the music and the students, who are giving the party, plan for a happy social time.

Ackert May Not Play.
A bear story comes from the local high school team that is causing the student body considerable alarm. In the report that Harris Ackert, Dixon team's star guard, will not be able to play tomorrow evening. In the game with Sterling last week Ackert, was pitted against Trouth, a Sterling man who plays an exceptionally rough game. The local star remembers several blows in the back during the game, but paid no particular attention to them then. During the week, however, the bruises have caused him considerable pain and Coach Bailey is alarmed to the extent that he may not allow the guard to get into the game, although the young man insists he'll get in no matter how much his back hurts.

Good Effects of Heat Wave.

According to an eminent medical authority in England, who has been talking about the heat wave and its effects on the general health of the community, a shade temperature of 97 degrees is an excellent thing for a number of people provided they are strong enough to stand it. "To live for a few days in a continual state of perspiration," said this doctor to M. A. P., "is about as good a health reviver as there is; it really induces the same result as the fasting cure, but in a better way. It clears the system thoroughly. The only drawback to this perspiring cure is that some people find it extremely weakening; those who do should take sustaining food, but little or no meat. A glass of port wine is advisable in cases where the heat has a very lowering effect on the vitality. I have seen a number of cases of nervous depression, neuralgia, and bad indigestion completely cured during the last few days simply as the result of the sufferer living in Nature's Turkish bath for a few days."

CASCARETS FOR A SICK SOUR STOMACH

Gently but Thoroughly cleanse and Regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you Sleep

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, that severe pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

WHAT Is Your Disease?

DR. R. S. PIPER

Will Be At Hotel Nachusa, Dixon

FRIDAY, Feb. 16th

Office Hours—8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

'He is honest with you'

He Returns Every Twenty-eight Days.
Why You Should Come

Many have asked Dr. Piper, how it is that he can cure chronic diseases that the general practitioner can do nothing with. The general answer is: Dr. Piper has devoted his life to the study of Chronic Disease. He devotes all of his time to his given specialty. He does nothing but office work. Instead of having one office with a practice limited to a radius of a few miles, he has a number of offices, and his practice covers hundreds of miles. He advises for the difficult and baffling cases that have been seeking relief sometimes for years, many of which come to him and find health and happiness, through the aid of his diagnostic methods and deep acting blood remedies. His advice is always welcome to you. YOU PLACE YOURSELF UNDER NO OBLIGATION WHEN YOU CALL. Come at once and call. The doctor—next time may be too late.

Many of you who have been taking medicine and so called treatments for months will be absolutely cured in a few weeks. Very chronic cases will require some longer time, but it will make no difference; you will be treated free, remedies excepted, until you can say, "I AM CURED."

Catarrh Are your lungs or bronchial tubes weak? Do you cough and expectorate diseased mucus? Does your nose stop up? Is your breath offensive? Have you a bad taste in your mouth? Have you pain in your chest? Are you bothered with shortness of breath and weak spells? Do you have throat trouble with hawking and clearing of your throat? Do you have dripping of stinking mucus from the back part of your nose into your throat? Call and have the doctor examine you. There is no need for you to have Catarrh. It often leads to that dreaded disease that is killing thousands of our best people—Consumption. Dr. Piper's treatment can be used in your home daily. No need of expensive office treatments.

Chronic Stomach Trouble causes more people to be misunderstood than any other. You are irritable in disposition—easily angered. You have plenty of ideas, but never carry any of them out. You are always tired. You have to force yourself to accomplish anything. You become blue and despondent and have many other symptoms which you know only too well. These are the mental symptoms of a deranged stomach. Other symptoms are: Bloating, Belching of gas, sour or greasy matter from the stomach, Pain, Diarrhea, Weakness, Palpitation of the heart, Constipation or Diarrhea, Unhealthy complexion, Changeable appetite, and Coated tongue. All these symptoms point to a deranged digestion. If you have any of these symptoms, lose no time. Dr. R. S. Piper's Cascarets will cure you, no matter how many doctors have failed. His specialty is the curing of deep, aggravated chronic diseases. His motto is: PAY HIM HIS FEE WHEN CURED.

Rheumatism Are you beginning to become sore and stiffened in your joints or muscles? Are your joints cramped and aching? Are your muscles and ligaments contracted? Do you have headaches? Is your tongue coated and your breath bad? Is your urine high colored and offensive? Do you have palpitation of your heart? Do not delay one day longer than you have to, but consult the master specialist, who will tell you what can be done for you. If there are no structural changes, your case is probably curable.

Lost Vitality Have you never recovered from an old illness? Are you despondent, blue and melancholic over your condition? Do you have spells or fits? Are you becoming anxious and fearful of the future? Are you troubled with nervousness and trembling of your limbs? Do you have that tired feeling in the morning? Is your memory failing you? Let Dr. Piper build you up to your former condition as he has done to so many others.

Men Are you suffering from early chases, lost vital power, losses and drains, backache, weak back, shooting pains in the neck, chest, back and limbs, palpitation of the heart, restless nights, bad dreams, loss of ambition and mental activity, nervousness, Yonkers, and loss of vitality. You have been neglected and mistreated? No matter how chronic your trouble may be or how many have treated you, consult the master specialist, Dr. R. S. Piper. He cures 99% of all these cases that appeal to him. His medicines are quick acting and lasting. Don't let time money keep you down. For these diseases are just as legitimate a branch of medicine as any disease of the stomach, etc. Be a man amongst men before it is too late!

Are You Suffering From Bloating, Belching of gas or food from your stomach, Pain or distress in your stomach, constipation or loose bowels, Worms or Moths, Bed Wetting, Creepy or numb sensations in the limbs, The effects of an old illness, Dropsy, Melancholia, Loss of Vital Energy, Loss of ambition, Wasting diseases, Catarrh of the nose, Deep-seated blood diseases, Early chases that have been neglected, Headaches, Shooting pains in the head, neck, back, and limbs, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Auto-intoxication, Infections of a private nature, Drain and losses, Nervousness, Piles, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Poor circulation, Palpitation of the heart, Shortness of breath, Lame back, Spots floating before the eyes, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Kidney and Bladder trouble, Catarrh of any part of the body, Epilepsy or fits, Asthma, Bronchitis, Eczema, Diseased eyes, Reduced vision for want of the proper diet, Female diseases, or any evidence of breaking down in MAN or WOMAN? If so, consult Dr. R. S. Piper, the master specialist of Chronic Diseases. No matter how hopeless you may feel, or how many doctors have treated you, if there is a cure for you, he will tell you so. If you want to consult a real Chicago Specialist in your home town, don't waste any time, but come at the above place at the stated time.

ASHAMED OF HER FACE

DEMENTTOWN

Want to have some fun with yourself? If so try to say "fat vat" rapidly about 20 times.

We had a couple of Ave. men trying it this morning and they threatened us with violent and rapid extinction after getting their tongues between their teeth several times.

The M. W. A. are advertising a hard time social for next Tuesday evening and state in their notice "wear you common every day clothes." Now just because newspaper men look as if they were going to a hard time party all the time, is no reason all the citizens of Dixon should be classed that way.

Statistics show that more gold was taken from the earth in 1911 than in any previous year. And we're in the same class as Mother Earth.

Mayor Valle says there are times when a mother-in-law is no joke, and he points to a clipping from a Mobile, Ala., paper which tells of a man being shot by his m-in-l. Quite right, mayor, quite right.

We want to advise one young man who lives in Dixon that just because his best girl makes him pop corn every time he calls that she isn't hinting for anything else.

A good way to advertise anything is to tell it to a friend and tell him not to tell anyone.

Feb. 14 in leap year certainly must prove a terror to bachelors. None of our prominent ones were at the party last evening.

Don't give him a cheap engagement ring. He'll get wise sooner or later. When you call on his mother and ask her for his hand don't let her think you're too anxious. OPIUM PROBLEM IS SERIOUS

Where the Poppy Is No Longer Cultivated in China, Bees Stop Making Honey.

Some unexpected results are found from the movement against the production of opium in China. In the Yunnan, one of the provinces where opium was produced in large quantities and at a low price and where a great deal of it was consumed, it appears that the poppy is no longer cultivated, owing to the recent measures, and the poppy fields have quite disappeared, according to the statements made by Doctors Talbot and Rigand. However, this has had a disastrous effect on the honey culture of the region. In fact, the honey from Yunnan was renowned for its quality, but as the bees find no more flowers, the production of honey is stopped as well. The new crops which replace the poppy, such as wheat or peas, are not such as will give honey yield as well. On another side of the question, it appears that the habits of the population are not suppressed by the present legislation, as some supposed would be the case, but according to Doctor Talbot, opium-smoking is again on the increase.—Scientific American.

SPECIAL JURY ORDERED

Judge Landis Orders Inquisitorial Body to Meet.

District Attorney Wilkerson Declares "Exigencies of the Public Service" Demand That Call Be Made.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Judge Landis in the United States district court here ordered a special grand jury to be impaneled before him next Monday morning at ten o'clock. This action was taken in response to an application filed by District Attorney Wilkerson, who declared that "exigencies in the public service demanded the calling of the special grand jury." This statement caused considerable discussion in the federal building. There has been considerable activity in the district attorney's office recently, and some of the matters which may come before the jury as a result listed in the reports current in the federal building were the following: Investigation of Chicago butter and egg board, already the subject of inquiry before a master in chancery. Allegations of perjury in beef trust case. Alleged customs frauds. Charges of corruption among federal employees in this district. Railroad and theatrical agency rebating cases. Labor cases. "It is possible that the jury has been called to investigate the interstate shipment of dynamite and other forms of explosives used by the labor men," was one suggestion.

BATH TUB TRUST IS HIT

Court's Ruling Makes Way for Government to Prove Contentions.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 15.—Three rulings made by United States Judge Angell at the opening session here in the trial of sixteen firms and twenty-four individuals composing the bath tub trust, charged with criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade, broke down the barrier existing over objections raised by the defense, and enabled the government to attempt to prove through testimony given by Edward L. Wayman that the defendants entered into agreements illegally to control trade.

TROOPS OUT ON BORDER

Making Long "Hike" Over New Mexico Sand to Reach Pillaged Ranch.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Troops have been asked for by the proprietor of Bailey's ranch, which crosses the Mexican border near Columbus, N. M. Mexican rebels are reported pillaging the ranch just south of the line. Troops have been sent, but their journey involves three days' travel over 86 miles of sand.

Tokyo, Feb. 15.—The Japanese government authorized the contradiction of reports of maltreatment of Korean converts to Christianity by the Japanese authorities. Lieutenant General Count Terauchi, the Japanese resident general of Korea, it is insisted, is sympathetic toward evangelization.

FREEDOM FOR BRANDT NEARER

Detective Who Looked Up Alleged Record Admits His Report False.

DISCOVER IMPORTANT LETTER

Supreme Court Justice Gerard Unable to Act in Investigation—Minutes of Grand Jury Do Not Show Crime of Much Magnitude.

New York, Feb. 15.—One more obstacle between Foulke Engle Brandt and freedom was cleared away here when Detective Lieutenant Joseph D. Woolridge went before the grand jury and confessed that the report he made on Brandt showing that he had a criminal record and upon which Judge Rosalsky has admitted that he based his decision in sending the former valet of Mortimer L. Schiff to prison for 30 years, was "framed up" and that, so far as he knew, Brandt had no criminal record.

Detective Haggard and Pale. Woolridge, looking haggard and pale and clinging to the rail to keep from collapsing, explained that he had been unable to sleep for days and that he finally decided to tell his own part in "railroading" Brandt. He said his report on Brandt had been obtained from an employment agency. "Was there anything said at the employment agency to show that Brandt was a criminal?" he was asked.

"No, nothing," he replied. The confession of Woolridge adds an important link to the chain of evidence forged by District Attorney Whitman and Brandt's lawyers to show that the valet was sent to prison through a conspiracy. Prominent officials are said to be implicated by Woolridge in a written statement which he signed for the district attorney at the conclusion of his testimony.

Another Important Link.

Another important link was the discovery of a letter written by Howard S. Gans, counsel for Mortimer L. Schiff in the Brandt case, under date of March 30, 1907, three days before the report of Detective Woolridge was rendered. The letter reads in part: "I should imagine that we will be able to unearth something more. He (Brandt) is to be sentenced next Thursday, but I can, of course, have the date of sentence adjourned if necessary. My idea is to be able to present to Judge Rosalsky a record which, taken in connection with the character of the defendant's crime, will require the imposition of a long sentence."

"With thanks for your many kindnesses in this matter, I am, faithfully yours,

"HOWARD S. GANS."

Supreme Court Justice Gerard, who was appointed to conduct the investigation in the matter of the application of Brandt for executive clemency, was compelled to resign by a statute which forbids a supreme court justice accepting a compensatory commission, and the governor appointed Richard L. Hand, president of the State Bar association, in his stead.

Minutes of Grand Jury. The minutes of the session of the grand jury of March, 1907, relating to the evidence taken in the case of Brandt were made public. It is shown by these minutes that only two witnesses were examined by the grand jury—Mortimer L. Schiff and a Pinkerton detective. Brandt's attorneys declare that these minutes fall far short of showing the crime of burglary in the first degree, of which Brandt was indicted and to which he pleaded guilty.

MAKE ANGLO-GERMAN PACT

London, Feb. 15.—The first official glimpse at the progress of the Anglo-German negotiations was given by Premier Asquith in the course of a debate in the house of commons here. Viscount Haldane, the secretary of war, consequently was sent to Berlin.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE
Manager Plein will have three acts for the last half of the week, commencing this evening having secured the famous Redpath Napanees, one of the largest companies now appearing in vaudeville. This act consist of seven people and presents one of the best known school scenes ever presented on any stage. The act is complete with comedy, singing, talking and dancing and is most interesting from the standpoint of excellence.

In addition to this Nellie Showers an aerial gymnast, and the Dancin' Duo, a novelty dancing act, will appear, making three substantial numbers for the last half of this week.

MAJESTIC—CHICAGO.
It is said that before the announcement of Eva Tanguay's return to the Majestic, Chicago, was a day old the demand at the box office for tickets became so urgent that most of the desirable seats for the week were sold before nightfall. Thus it became evident that one week would not do at all, and arrangements were at once perfected to prolong her stay for another week. This is precisely what happened last year, and even then with a third week added, crowds were turned away from the box office down to the last day and thousands who wished to see this magnetic comedienne were unable to do so. There may be some hidden significance in all this, but to the observer of amusement phenomena it would seem that people know very well what they want when it comes to recreation and do not take their tips from drama leagues or any censors whatsoever. Miss Tanguay would probably fail to measure up to an ultra dramatic standard, but the multitudes wish to see her, and that seems to be a fact against which abstract philosophy may beat its superior wings in vain.

Aside from Miss Tanguay, who is terally a whole show in herself, here will be a very strong bill of specialties by notable artists. Edgar Atchinson Ely & Co. will play Billy's Tombstones, one of the funniest of arcs; Caesar Rivoli, a quick change artist and impersonator, comes with a great reputation. The Six Brown Bros. have a comedy musical act that is remarkable, while the Cadets de la Scogne, operatic singers; the Kitamura Japs, acrobats; Paul Barnes, a monologist, and Houton & Wootton, whose specialty is football on horseback, will contribute to a bill which seems quite complete in its entertaining qualities.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physics May Cause Distressing Complaints

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus over-coming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

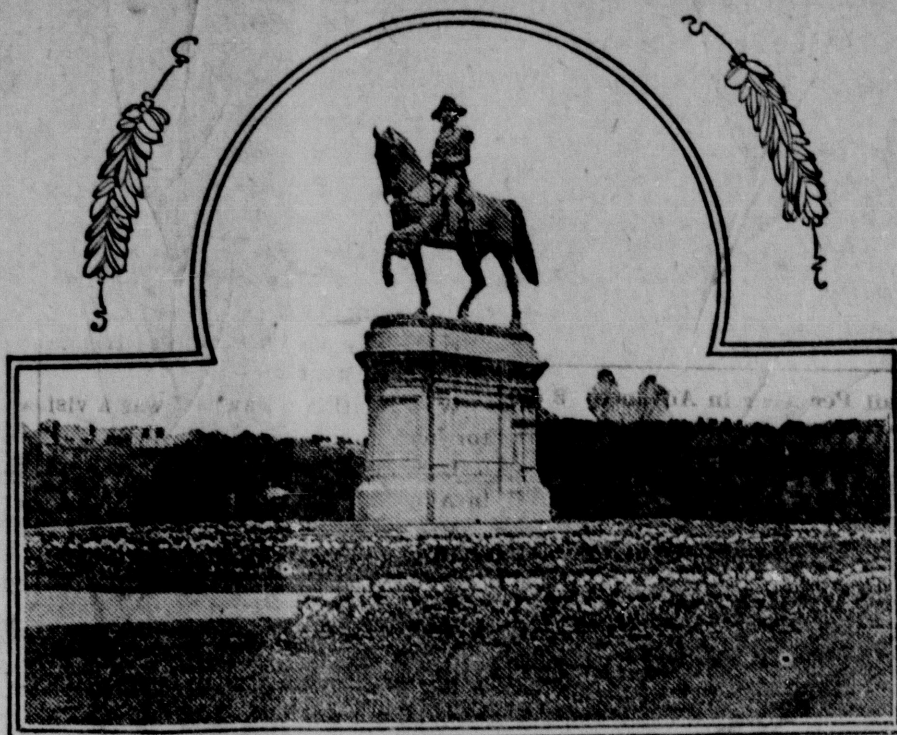

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in two sizes of packages, 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets 25c, and 30 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. C. Y. Campbell & Son.

VAN BIBBER WOULD IMPROVE CITY HALL

Commissioner J. D. VanBibber is planning some much needed improvements at the city hall this spring, and will, at some meeting soon, present the matter to the commissioners. The firemen's rooms are in a deplorable condition and must be refinished. Recently a wall was built there to exclude the cold air from the down stairs rooms, and as a result the appearance of the upper room is not very pleasing. The walls are very smoky and dirty also, and need redecorating. The heater, with which the firemen provide themselves with hot water, is worn out and smokes incessantly and Mr. VanBibber hopes to get a new heater, after which the refitting of the rooms will be commenced.

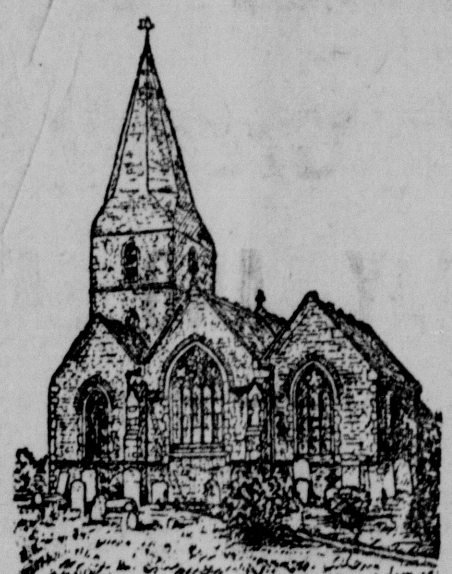

Mrs. J. C. Maxwell of Sterling was here today on business.

Washington Statue in Boston Public Gardens

More About the English Home of the Washingtons

A PROPOSITION seriously engaging the attention of the English people and press is that Sulgrave manor, in Northamptonshire, the home of George Washington's ancestors, shall be purchased by public subscription in both countries as a visible monument to the cordial relations existing between the two great branches of the English-speaking race. Sulgrave is the place in England most closely associated with the name of Washington. It is true that George himself attached little importance to this fact. In the early days of the American republic, ancestry was despised much more than is now the case. In 1788 he refused to accept the dedication of a book on heraldry because a portion of the community were "clamorously endeavoring to propagate an idea that those whom they wished invidiously to designate by the name of 'well-born' were meditating in the first instance to distinguish themselves from their compatriots and to wrest the dearest privileges from the bulk of the people." Ancestry today is much more regarded in America than it was a hundred years ago. Washington knew very little about his own forefathers. When he was asked about them by the garter king-at-arms, he said the first of his family in Virginia had come from one of the northern counties in England, Yorkshire or Lancashire, or even one still further north. Later there was much dispute about his family tree, but it was finally agreed that the Washingtons of Sulgrave and Brington did actually spring from the Washingtons of Worton in Lancashire, a place on the Westmoreland border. Several generations of Washingtons of Worton are recorded, and one of these was the father of Laurence Washington, mayor of Northampton in 1532 and 1545. This Laurence Washington had for mother the daughter of Robert Kyton of Worton, and a sister of Sir Thomas Kyton of Hengrave in Suffolk. This proved a matter of very considerable importance in their history, because it brought them into connection with the Spencers of Althorp and Wormleighton, through the marriage of Sir Thomas Kyton's daughter, Catherine, to Sir John Spencer of Wormleighton, whose grandson, Sir Robert Spencer, was created Baron Spencer of Wormleighton in 1603. In process of time the Washingtons of Sulgrave appear to have got into financial difficulties. Laurence Washington entered the wool trade, perhaps induced to do so by the fact that Lord Spencer was one of the great flock-masters of his day. This Laurence acquired great riches in the wool trade. In 1539 he became possessed of the manor of Sulgrave for the sum of £321 14s. 10d., and subsequently he purchased additional property. He had many sons, of whom the oldest was Robert, the ancestor of George Washington. He succeeded his father in 1555, when he was of the age of forty. He does not seem to have been so prosperous as his father, and yet seems to have been able to send both his sons, Christopher and William, to Oriel college, Oxford, where they were in 1588, the year of the Great Armada. Robert's eldest son was named Laurence, probably after the mayor of Northampton, and in 1610 he, in agreement with his son, agreed to sell Sulgrave to their cousin, Laurence Makepeace. The second Laurence Washington then removed to Brington, near Northampton, his father, perhaps, going with him, though the latter was buried in the family vault at Sulgrave. Laurence Washington had seventeen children, two of whom rose to high positions and were knighted—Sir William Washington of Packington in 1622, and Sir John Washington of Thrapston in 1623. But the younger members of the family were becoming impecunious. This, then, was the connection of the family of Washington with Sulgrave manor. It is a very interesting one. The manor could not be properly described as one of the stately homes of England. It was built at a good time, but it is not a very fine example of the period. Nevertheless, a single glance at the pictures of the really grand old place will show how essentially English are the architecture and its surroundings. It would have been a very befitting action had it fallen to the lot of the celebrants in Great Britain to think first of Sulgrave and to have offered it as a free gift to the United States. The inhabitants of the latter could have made good use of it. It has long been the object of many a pilgrim on the part of Americans in Europe, and it might have been a rallying ground and a center where objects of interest to them could be collected. Something of the kind may yet be done; but perhaps it is better that all of those who are interested in keeping the centenary of the signature of peace should take a share in the acquisition of this memorial of Washington.

Volunteer Fireman

True Public Spirit of the First President Is Shown in Significant Action Recorded

One of the facts in the history of George Washington which most historians fail to mention is that he was a volunteer fireman. About 1750 he enrolled himself in the volunteer fire company at Alexandria, Va.

It is related that on more than one occasion when Washington learned that there was a fire in the vicinity of Alexandria which had called out the firemen he mounted his horse and rode thither from Mount Vernon. The records of the place show that when the volunteer fire department was organized each member agreed "out of mutual friendship" to carry to every fire two leather buckets and one great bag of ozenaburg or wider linen, which was the primitive means of extinguishing a fire.

The Friendship Fire company of Alexandria was organized in 1774, at which time Washington was a delegate to the Continental congress in Philadelphia. The members of the company, remembering Washington's former services as a fireman, elected him an honorary member at their first meeting, and forwarded him a copy of the minutes.

To show his appreciation of the compliment, he at once made a thorough inspection of the different kinds of fire engines in use in Philadelphia, and upon his second return there in 1775, he bought from one Gibbs a small fourth-class engine for 80 pounds and ten shillings, and just before he set out for Boston to become commander-in-chief of the Continental army sent this little engine as a present to the Friendship company.

Washington did not lose his interest in fire matters through his elevation to position and power. Upon his retirement to Mount Vernon, after his second term as president, and when his fame spread around the world, he continued to take active interest in the volunteer fire department, and aided it in many ways.

The notes from which Washington delivered his farewell address are bequeathed to Miss Lizzie C. Faxon of Dedham, Mass., by the will of her grandmother, Miss Faxon is a descendant of Thomas Jefferson and has a valuable collection of Jefferson letters and papers.

YUAN FOR PRESIDENT

China's Premier to Be Named Republic's Head.

National Assembly Caucus Decides to Elevate Shi Kai—Clashes With Doctor Sun.

Nanking, Feb. 15.—The national assembly caucus here decided to elect Yuan Shi Kai president of the Chinese republic. The assembly approved the edict of abdication. It will insist that the emperor shall have no voice in national affairs, and that Yuan Shi Kai must come to Nanking to take an oath to abide by the provisional constitution. Questions of a permanent capital and a new constitution will be taken up by the new assembly.

Peking, Feb. 15.—Provisional President Sun Yat Sen telegraphed to Yuan Shi Kai: "I have read the edict announcing the abdication, and also your letter declaring your adherence to the united republic. Both have caused great rejoicing here; but the united republic is unable to recognize the appointment of an organizer by the Ching emperor. If the point is insisted on it may result seriously. Please come to Nanking immediately and fulfill the hopes of the people."

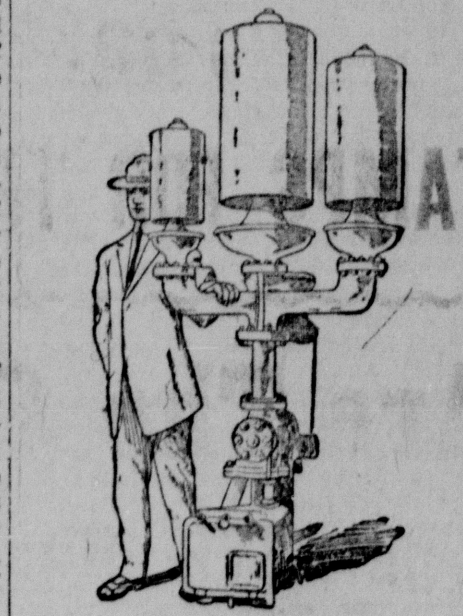

Yuan suspects that if the throne's nomination of the premier as organizer is set aside the republicans will appoint another president. It is improbable that Yuan will comply with President Sun Yat Sen's request.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the provisional republic, has sent his resignation to the Nanking republican assembly, together with the recommendation that Yuan Shi Kai, the premier, be appointed to the presidency.

diameter, grouped together on a branch piece, says the Popular Mechanics. The height from the base of the branch piece to the top of the center dome is 4 ft. 2 1/2 in., and the combined weight of the three domes and the branch piece is 764 1/2 lbs.

The whistles, which are electrically controlled, are so arranged and tuned as to give the distinctive harmonious blast which is known by the White Star line navigators as their own recognized sound.

Novel Use for Eiffel Tower.

An attempt is to be made to use the Eiffel Tower for the purpose of protecting Paris and the surrounding country from the ravages of hailstones. M. de Beauchamp, a French scientist, has made some very successful experiments with electric columns of only 100 feet in height, by means of which he was able to protect the surrounding land within a radius of two miles. Equally successful results in the case of the Eiffel Tower would be of importance, from an agricultural point of view, to the country around Paris.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

me before you depart."

"With pleasure," I hastened to reply, my surprise at the request almost robbing me of speech, "but I shall be compelled to leave at once, as my troop is already under orders."

"I shall detain you for only a moment, but after what you have passed through on our behalf I am unwilling you should depart without realizing our gratitude. You will find me in the library. Come, Frank, I am ready now."

We remained motionless, watching them until they disappeared around the corner of the shed. Brennan walked with stern face, his step heavy, she with averted eyes, a slight smile of triumph curling her lip. Then Moorehouse stooped and picked up the derringer the Major had thrown away.

"By thunder, but she's right!" he exclaimed emphatically. "I tell you that's a mighty fine woman. Blame me, if she didn't face us like a queen."

No one answered, and without exchanging another word we walked together to the house. There I found the remnant of my troop standing beside their horses, chaffing with a dozen idle Yankee cavaliers who were lounging on the wide steps.

The time had come when I must say a final farewell and depart. Not the slightest excuse remained for further delay. I dreaded the ordeal, but no escape was possible, and I entered the house for what I well knew was to be the last time. My mind was gravely troubled; I knew not what to expect, how far I might venture to hope. Why had she desired to see me again? Surely the public reason she offered could not be the real one. Had she only been free, a maid whose hand remained her own to surrender as she pleased, I should never have hesitated, never have doubted her purpose; but now that could not be.

As I knocked almost timidly at the closed library door a gentle voice said, "Come," and I entered, my heart throbbing like a frightened girl's. She stood waiting me nearly in the center of that spacious apartment, dressed in the same light raiment she had worn without, and her greeting was calm and friendly, yet tinged by a proud dignity, I cannot describe. I believed for an instant that we were alone, and my blood raced through my veins in sudden expectancy; then my eyes fell upon Mrs. Minor comfortably seated in an armchair before the fire, and I realized that she was present to restrain me from forgetfulness. But in very truth my lady hardly needed such protection—her speech, her manner, her proud constraint told me at once most plainly that no existing tie between us had caused our meeting.

"Captain Wayne," she said softly, her high color alone giving evidence of any memory of the past, "I scarcely thought that we should meet again, yet was not willing to part with you under any misunderstanding. I have learned from Lieutenant Caton the full particulars of your action in connection with Major Brennan. I wish you to realize that I appreciate your efforts to escape a hostile meeting and esteem you most highly for your forbearance on the field. It was indeed a noble proof of true courage. May I ask why did you fire in the air?"

Had she not held me so away from her by her manner I should have then and there told her all the truth. As it was I durst not.

"I felt convinced that if my bullet reached Major Brennan it would injure you. I preferred not to do that."

"I believed it was for my sake you made the sacrifice," she paused; then asked in yet lower tones: "Was my name mentioned during your contention—I mean publicly?"

"It was not; Caton alone is aware I refrained because of the reason I have already given you."

"Your wound is not serious?"

"Too insignificant to be worthy of mention."

She was silent, her eyes upon the carpet, her bosom rising and falling with the emotion she sought in vain to suppress.

"I thank you for coming to me," she said frankly. "I shall understand it all better, comprehend your motive better, for this brief talk. Whatever you may think of me in the future, and she held out her hand with something of the old frankness in the gesture, "do not hold me as ungrateful for a single kindness you have shown me. I have not fully understood you, Captain Wayne; indeed, I doubt if I do even now, yet I am under great obligations which I hope some day to be able to requite, at least in part."

"A thousand times they are already paid," I exclaimed, eagerly, forgetting for the moment the presence of her silent chaperon. "You have given me that which is more than life."

"Do not, Captain Wayne," she interrupted, her cheeks aflame. "I would rather forget. Please do not; I did not send to you for that, only to tell you I knew and understood."

He hesitated, feeling doubtless the uselessness of further protest, yet she permitted him small opportunity for consideration. "Major," she said quietly but firmly, "I should be pleased to have you escort me to the house."

These words, gently as they were spoken, still constituted a command. Her eyes were upon his face, and I doubt not he read within them that he would forfeit all her respect if he failed to obey. Yet he yielded with exceeding good grace.

"As it seems impossible to continue," he admitted bitterly, "I suppose I may as well go." He turned and fronted me, his eyes glowing. "But understand, sir, this is merely a cessation, not an ending."

I bowed gravely, not daring to trust my voice in speech, lest I should yield to the temptation of my own temper. "Captain Wayne," she said, glancing back across his broad blue shoulder, and I thought there was a new quality in her voice, the sting had some way gone out of it. "I shall esteem it a kindness if you will call upon

We must part now. Will you say good-bye?"

"If you bid me, yes, I will say good-bye," I answered, my own self-control brought back instantly by her words and manner, "but I retain that which I do not mean to forget—your gracious words of invitation to the North."

She stood with parted lips, as though she struggled to force back that which should not be uttered. Then she whispered swiftly:

"It is not my wish that you should."

Was there ever such another paradox of a woman? I knew not how to read her aright, for I scarce ever found her twice the same. Which represented the truth of her character—her cool dignity, her impetuous pride, or that gentle tenderness which befitted her so well? Which was the armor, which the heart of this fair lady of the North?

As we rode down the path to the eastward, a snowy handkerchief fluttered for an instant at the library window. I raised my hat in silent greeting, and we were gone.

ACCUSES MAJOR RAY

CLERK ALLEGES PAYMASTER BROKE UP HIS HOME.

Former's Name Is Kept Secret, But Investigating Committee Is in Receipt of His Letter.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Correspondence revealing the details of a marital tragedy was made public by the house committee on expenditures in the war department, which has been investigating the relations of the administration and Maj. B. B. Ray, paymaster in the army, now located in Chicago.

The committee recently made public two letters from President Taft indicating that the chief executive, to protect "the name of a woman and the honor of the army," directed that Major Ray be not prosecuted.

At the meeting of the committee there was inserted in the record the letter of complaint against Ray written to Brigadier General Whipple, paymaster general of the army, by the man who was his personal clerk and husband of the woman with whom the army officer is alleged to have sustained improper relations.

In this letter the clerk, whose name is suppressed, insisted that Ray took advantage of his position to overcome the scruples of his wife, threatening the woman that unless she acceded to his desires her husband would be discharged.

Gompers and Morrison Safe.

Washington, Feb. 15.—It was officially announced by the department of justice that the government has failed in any effort it may have made to connect Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor, with the dynamite conspiracy.

So clear are the records before the grand jury at Indianapolis on this point that no effort to indict or arrest either official will be made.

THESE SIX LETTERS From New England Women

Prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Does Restore the Health of Ailing Women.

Boston, Mass.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from hemorrhages (sometimes lasting for weeks), and could get nothing to check them. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (tablet form) on Tuesday, and the following Saturday morning the hemorrhages stopped. I have taken them regularly ever since and am steadily gaining."

"I certainly think that every one who is troubled as I was should give your Compound Tablets a faithful trial, and they will find relief."—Mrs. GEORGE JURY, 802 Fifth Street, South Boston, Mass.

Letter from Mrs. Julia King, Phoenix, R.I.

Phoenix, R.I.—"I worked steady in the mill from the time I was 12 years old until I had been married a year, and I think that caused my bad feelings. I had soreness in my side near my left hip that went around to my back, and sometimes I would have to lie in bed for two or three days. I was not able to do my household."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me wonderfully in every way. You may use my letter for the good of others. I am only too glad to do anything within my power to recommend your medicine."—Mrs. JULIA KING, Box 282, Phoenix, R.I.

Letter from Mrs. Etta Donovan, Willimantic, Conn.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk up stairs without stopping on the way. I was all run down in every way."

As farmers in Canada are going broke and land prices tumbling no one will buy it. I have talked and advertised for ten years that only a bird or less of either of the Dakotas was good for farming and the good part of S. D. too high to buy. The last two crops show that is best. Cavalier county had crops in 1910 that paid for the land and also in 1911. 1912 promises much better and I will still give you a chance to pay for a farm with one crop. As an investment land here will pay better interest on $100 an acre than land in Ill. at the prices it is selling at as there so much of the rent has to be paid out for taxes, improvements and insurance. Having been here over ten years I predict Hundred Dollar land here in five to seven years. The farmers here are buying it and they are making money faster than any other farmers in the world.

COLLUSION IN SALES SHOWN

Beef Packers' Pricing Clerk an Unwilling Witness, Tells Story.

LOSES MEMORY ON STAND

Bernard Remmer Says He Cannot Recall the Memorandum, and Test Cost Methods—Russell Seeks to Evade Questions.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The government advanced a step nearer to showing that Armour & Co., used practically the same methods as Morris & Co., the National Packing company and Swift & Co., whose heads are on trial for criminal violation of the Sherman act, in conducting their business.

Bernard Remmer, pricing clerk;
George W. Anderson, salesman, and Henry Russell of the beef department of Armour & Co., were the witnesses.
From Anderson it was learned that each week a summary of tonnage shipments was prepared and was available each Monday morning.

When Jerome H. Pratt, former Armour employe, testified he asserted that each Monday he received summary tonnage shipments into territory "A"—the eastern states—which he placed in the "Tuesday" envelope.
This occurred outside the statute of limitations and the government sought to prove Pratt's information was used each Tuesday for the purpose of agreeing on shipments. Anderson declared his summary also covered territory "A."

Russell Evades Questions.
After considerable effort it was brought out from Russell that uniform advances in prices were ordered generally without regard to the quality of beef.

Russell tried to evade a direct answer when asked whether uniform advances or reductions were ordered.
At first he answered negatively but when Mr. Sheehan turned to the testimony given by Russell before the grand jury he changed his answer to the affirmative.

After some effort Government Counsel James M. Sheehan had Russell admit a telegram shown him was on the private form of Armour & Co. This telegram read:

"Chicago, July 16, 1910.

"Raulerson, New York:

"Re Elizabeth, 368: I wired you early this week that request to branch houses will be changed and we would admit twenty-five instead of fifty cents."

"H. RUSSELL."
Remmer was recalled to the witness stand and explained in detail the shipping sheets form blanks which were handed him. The prosecution expects to show that the Armour & Co. beef was billed to branch house inspectors at the memorandum cost which was an artificial and inflated price.

Has Poor Memory.
"What is the difference of prices between the memorandum and test cost?"

"I can't say."

"And you have seen them side by side for years and can't say?"

"I don't remember."

"How frequently have you been called upon to prepare a statement showing the difference?"

"Never."

Russell was shown two margin sheets, but was unable to tell when the sale price column was eliminated.

M'FARLAND WINS BOUT

Defeats Eddie Murphy in Ten-Round Battle.

Fight a Hot One From Start to Finish
—Chicago Boy Showed Much Cleverness.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 15.—It's a case of hats off to Packey McFarland.
The "Yards" whirlwind made good against a classy boy of his own weight in a sensational ten-round battle here, giving Eddie Murphy, the Boston bulldog, an artistic punching for ten rounds.

Packey's great cleverness brought him home over the half-hour route with a comfortable lead, a clean knock-down in the fourth round, giving him an edge which he never lost. Packey not only outboxed Eddie, but out-punched him, earning a clean shade in five rounds and losing only one session to his foe. The Chicago marvel finished on the bit, like the real stake horse he is, and none could gainsay his right to the popular verdict when the final bell ended the pretty struggle. The bout was not a parlor boxing match, as some anticipated.

Weeks Moll's Successor.
Milwaukee, Feb. 15.—The next meeting of the Wisconsin-Illinois league magistrates will be held here on March 2, when President Moll's resignation will become effective. Frank R. Weeks of the Green Bay club is the probable successor to Moll.

Samoa's Former King Dead.
Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 15.—The announcement is made from Levuka, Fiji Islands, of the death of Mataafa, ex-king of Samoa, who maintained resistance against the treaty powers in 1898.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS

State Happenings.

HANER IS NAMED PRESIDENT

Systematic Road Work Is Asked by the Illinois Stock Breeders' Association at Convention Held in Bloomington.

Bloomington, Feb. 16.—Scientific pork producing, dairying and raising of horses were three topics discussed by the Illinois Live Stock Breeders' association. Prominent authorities led the discussion upon these questions, the University of Illinois being represented by Prof. J. L. Edmonds and W. C. Coffey. Resolutions were adopted favoring improvement of public roads and also for the establishment of a live stock board at Springfield, which will work for improvement of public roads and also for the establishment of a live stock board at Springfield, which will work for improvement of cattle and hogs. New officers were elected as follows:

President—P. S. Haner, Taylorville.
Vice presidents—C. D. Ford, Geneseo; A. L. Duncan, Seaton, and J. C. Chapman, Vienna.

Secretary—S. B. Smith, Springfield.
Treasurer—C. W. Taylor, Williams-ville.

Held for Conductor's Act.
Springfield, Feb. 16.—Judge Vickers of the supreme court denied a writ of certiorari to the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company in the case of Dr. Barney Welty of Chicago.
The supreme court holds that railroad companies are responsible for the negligence of sleeping car conductors.

Dr. Welty was taking a Rock Island train at Englewood for Oklahoma. As he was about to enter the sleeping car the Pullman conductor told him that it was not his train and that he must take the next one. Dr. Welty insisted that it was his train. The Pullman conductor told him he must see his ticket, which Dr. Welty showed. On examining the ticket the conductor said that the train was the one on which Dr. Welty was to go and told him to climb on. By this time the train was starting and the conductor jumped on first, with Dr. Welty's suitcase and ticket. The passenger attempted to get on, missed his hold and was injured.

Pastor Must Go to Prison.
Joliet, Feb. 16.—Rev. John Horton was found guilty of bigamy by a jury.
The testimony of the second wife, Amanda Brenker, virtually settled the fact in the minds of the jury. His lawyers had contended that the marriage took place in Cook county, that as the couple had not lived together in Will county the indictment here was void. The woman's testimony was to the contrary. Horton's sentence will be from one to five years in the penitentiary.

Asks for Match; Shoots Giver.
Ridgway, Feb. 16.—At Shawneetown Charles Tucker shot and probably fatally wounded Eulice Deever. According to witnesses Tucker was sitting in Pillow's pool room when Deever entered, and asked Deever for a match, which was given. Tucker then said, "Deever, I'm a bad man," and shot the other, the witnesses said.

Orphans' Lips Plastered Shut.
Urbana, Feb. 16.—William A. Davis, superintendent of the Cunningham orphanage, will be tried by the board of managers on charges of cruelty pre-ferred by Rev. R. V. Meigs, pastor of an Urbana church. It is charged that children's mouths were closed with adhesive plaster to keep them from "chattering."

Kills His Wife and Himself.
Chicago, Feb. 16.—John Tandyk, forty-two years old, shot and killed his wife, Martha, forty-two years old, and killed himself in their home, 5617 South Ashland avenue. Domestic discord was given as the cause of the tragedy, which was witnessed by the six children of the couple.

Library Site Acquired.
Grayville, Feb. 16.—The Shakespeare club, which has the promise of Andrew Carnegie to erect a library in this city, has purchased two lots at Mill and Short streets for the structure. The funds were raised by popular subscription. The Shakespeare club is composed of women.

Accused of Violating Game Law.
Havana, Feb. 16.—The jury in the case against John W. Schoester in the county court failed to agree on a verdict after being out 14 hours. Schoester is a Chicago man, who is charged with having bought wild ducks out of season.

Farm Land $301.25 An Acre.
Bloomington, Feb. 16.—The high record prices for Central Illinois land was received when H. V. Hiltz paid $301.25 an acre for a tract of 40 acres near Normal.

Couple Are Married Sixty-two Years.
Bloomington, Feb. 16.—William Elder and wife observed their sixty-second wedding anniversary. They are the oldest married couple in Central Illinois.

Effingham Man Accused of Arson.
Effingham, Feb. 16.—Charles Manuel was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of arson. He is accused of setting fire to his home.

ORANGES

Anything real fine and free from frost in California Oranges is very hard to get. The safest to buy as well as the sweetest orange on the market at present is the Indian River Florida Oranges. We keep these in two sizes 30 and 40 cents per dozen. These are quoted as the highest priced oranges on the Chicago wholesale market. This shows that they are considered the finest fruit by the orange eating public. If you are not acquainted with them, try a dozen.
